Do you care about the future? Build today. You can change everything. Grow a cedar forest on a barren plain. But it is important that you do not construct cedars, but plant seeds.

Antoine de Saint-Exepurie

A few words about those who sow the seeds within our project

ERNESTA loves nature and seeks peace and understanding in everything. Her superpower is in uniq. She knows how and notices beauty and grace where many could not. And it would seem that she is creative and fragile, but no - she is a real fighter and innovator. She works in the field of social business, creates training programs, manages projects and teaches body and movement therapy. Ernesta is also an artist of empirical art!

“A designer understands that he has achieved perfection not when there is nothing to add, but when there is nothing to take away!” (Antoine de Saint-Exupéry) This quote is CRISTIANO's favorite. Cristianos superpower brings systematicity and structure to our project, puts our thoughts and ideas into form, and together, soon you will be able to enjoy his creation - our website.

For LAURA, all the details are important. If everyone could notice them and use this knowledge like she does, this is such a superpower! It's not for nothing that Laura is involved in projects aimed at improving people's emotional health and teaching them how to take care of mental health. She understands the issues of emotional psychological stability of students and strives to improve it by implementing herself in projects such as ours.

We also have a GIULIA from Juliet's homeland. She has always been passionate about learning foreign languages and has succeeded in it. As a real master of linguistic sciences, she has the corresponding super power - Giulia knows how to present any information in such a way that the interlocutor feels important, necessary and involved. Tell me that many people can do this? And you'll be right. But the difference is that Julia always does it with an open heart and sincerely, and this is worth a lot!

MONIKA has her own super power - she can direct any chaos into a constructive direction. And you do it with great love and never give up! Monica is a qualified mentor with extensive experience in psychology and education. She has excellent communication skills with teachers and helps them improve their skills.

JULIA usually brings that chaos that Monica is able to organize:) Being involved in children's and adult education, working mainly with mixed-ability groups, Julia also has superpower and her superpower is improvisation! Improvisation helps you overcome many barriers for yourself and others. Loves children, nature, runs a private inclusive school.

By the way, our website is already working and we will gradually fill it for you:
